

Old-fashioned Thrift

IT is never out of date. A family that saves brings contentment to its fireside. And the oftener you invest in sound securities, the easier it becomes to save.

You want every dollar you invest to yield you and yours a substantial return. For there is something almost sacred about your savings.

We know how you feel and we realize our responsibility when we encourage thousands of investors all over the country to come to us for securities.

Before we buy and distribute a new issue of securities, we make a thorough investigation of the past history, management, product, integrity, and financing back of it. We offer only the securities of Governments, Cities and of Corporations with established records of earnings.

We can always suggest securities well adapted to your needs. Come and see us, or write us a letter. Let us send you "Men and Bonds," the illustrated story of our service; this and our latest Offering Sheet on request for F-117.
