NOTICE

To the Public and to the Persons Collecting Thrifty Green Stamps

This book and the Thrifty Green Stamps which are issued by the undersigned, are so issued, and received by you, pursuant to certain restrictions and limitations concerning their use contained in the written contracts made for your benefit between the undersigned and the merchants authorized to reissue them to their customers. Neither the books nor the stamps are sold to you or the merchants, the title thereto being expressly reserved in the undersigned. They are furnished to you as evidence of payments to our subscribers. The only right which you acquire in said stamps is to paste them in books like this and present them for redemption. You must not dispose of them or make any other use of them without our consent in writing. We will in every case, where application is made to the undersigned, give you permission to turn over your stamps to any other bona-fide collector of Thrifty Green Stamps, but if the stamps or the books are transferred without our consent, we reserve the right to restrain their use by, or take them from other parties. It is to your interest that you fill the book, and personally derive the benefits and advantages of exchanging it for valuable premiums.

These stamps when received by you must be pasted in the book, as that is a method we have adopted for the purpose of preventing their further use as an advertising medium.
